MESSAGE from Secretary

We, at PGVS, envisage for a society where everyone feels equal, gets fullest opportunity to develop, lives an inclusive and life of fullness. We are committed to our mission of making everyone capable to avail and have access to all human rights without that living with dignity is not possible. I am aware of sufferings and challenges of marginalized classes, particularly of persons with disabilities, children, women, and socially peripheral communities and their struggle for survival and sustenance. This necessitates for uniting and empowering the deprived classes to break 'culture of silence' and strive to correct unjust structures, systems, and process of power relations in order for justice to become distributive and delegated in society. I draw immense satisfaction to see that through PGVS work in communities, women and persons with disabilities are organizing into self-help groups, Landless people aware of their rights and demanding and raising their voices for their land rights, farmers becoming conscious of environment protection and practicing ecological methods of agriculture, Poor children are provided knowledge on importance of Education and care and protection and vulnerable communities adopting to risk reduction measures and becoming resilient. Now Each Household is becoming aware about safe Water and Improved Sanitation and practicing it in their daily life. In this context, I along with PGVS family pledge to unleash our potentials to ensure that each member of the society lives a healthy, educated and prosperous life and develops within oneself a desire to protect human being and conserve nature for the forthcoming generations so that they too would have the right to live in a clean and safer environment. ### Digital Literacy program.

Project Pried: 12 July 2017 to 31 March 2018.

Supported by: Tata trust, Google and Phia Foundation.

Introduction and purpose of Project:-

In Collaboration with Tata Trust and Google Pragati Rural Development Committee Conducted the Literacy Program in Bhoj pur district of Bihar. Under the 14 blocks of Bhojpur district a total 1132 villages, 205736, provided education to women of rural and deprived communities through mobile. High-tech was created by giving internet education to women by choosing an internet saathi of 283 women in 1132 villages. The main objective of the project was to reduce the gap of internet education between men and women, to achieve the goal of the project in time, and to enable them to search job through internet. Many internet saathi colleagues are teaching their children with the help of internet. Many internet saathi colleagues are trying to sew clothes by searching the new designs from the internet. Many internet saathi colleagues have started their own job by learning painting, knitting sweaters and booking railway tickets by using internet. Women confidence has increased through this project. If women get an opportunity, then they can achieve the goal of their life too. During this program, women of rural and deprived communities have been provided employment opportunities.

Start of Project :

- Tour of the village.
- Preparing/ forming a cluster of four Revenue villages situated nearby.
- Getting information about the situation of the village by contacting the influential people of the village.
- Meeting the deprived communities of the village and establishing contact with such women.
- Meeting the women of the disadvantaged community, selecting an internet saathi.

Challenges and solutions in the project:

Our guiding principle was “Do not obstruct work progress even in odd circumstances.” We have to solve the problems of saath in the working categories of women and disadvantaged community. Many villages in the remote and mountainous areas do not have a mobile network posing a problem of data Scand /communication . Internet saathi were encouraged to use mobile frequently. Due to the caste discrimination of upper class people with internet saathi companions, creates a lot of problems in the workmanship of the team-mates. However Internet saathi were inspired to be on the path of continuous progress.
